It is with great pleasure and excitement that I am able to join with long time friend, business partner and Demartini Facilitator Julian Papenfus for a one time only 2 day Transformation Process Workshop.

I was able to catch Julian on his busy schedule in between travels from America and Ireland, on his way to Spain, Czechoslovakia and India!

Julian & I have run many workshops together and have a dynamic energy that we would like to share with you, helping you breakthrough to new levels of inspiration, creativity and performance.

What is the Transformation Process? It encompasses the Demartini Method which

Reduce Stress, Resolves Conflict & Opens Hearts

The Demartini Method is a leading edge transformational methodology that uses fundamental laws, principles and techniques to help remove obstacles standing in the way of dreams. We use a systematic series of pre determined questions to help neutralize all emotional charge, thereby balancing mental & physical reactions which effect significant and lasting change.

This workshop is a fantastic investment! This is not a feel good motivational workshop. In this workshop you will be given tools that you will use again and again for the rest of your life! You will never think the same way again! How do you know that you are a candidate for this workshop?

Do you have relationship problems? With friends, lovers, spouse, children, colleagues etc? Emotional baggage? Dealing with loss of a loved one?

Any area of your life where there is an imbalance, this course is for you!

The course offers you a new and more profound way of looking at your life. You will be provided with a leading edge transformational methodology, a life advancing process, and a high achievement formula, that can create significant changes in your attitude towards, and actions, in life. We will also help you to learn how to change any stressful situations you might encounter into a fulfilling condition or experience. The result will be that you will learn how to experience more moments of gratitude, love, certainty and presence in your life. You will learn how to act from a greater state of purpose, wisdom, maturity and poise!
